Resident Family Support

Funded Family Care has changed. Funded Family Care is now called Resident Family Support.

If you meet the criteria you can manage this service through Individualised Funding with Enliven or apply for a family member to be employed through Enliven.

How can I get Resident Family Support?

Resident Family Support is available to people of all ages living with disability who have had their needs assessed as Very High or High Needs by your Needs Assessment service.

People with high or very high support needs means those people who are living with disability.

Resident Family Support allows payments to people caring for family members who have been assessed with high or very high needs.

You can employ a family member who lives in the same house as you, including partners, spouses and parents. The worker must be aged over 16.

From June 2020, eligibility for Resident Family Support Care has expanded to include:

- Partners and spouses of those living with high or very high support needs
- Children and young people under the age of 18 assessed with high or very high needs
- The minimum age of a family carer has been lowered to 16

Managing Resident Family Support

You can manage Resident Family Support by Individualised Funding or you may be employed by Enliven.

It can be used for Personal care and household management support services.

Enliven can support you with this process.

We provide a comprehensive, reasonably priced, payroll system. These payments are administered by Ministry of Health Disability Services (MOHDS) and District Health Boards (DHB).
